

Adelphi University's 2007-2008 Outstanding First Year Student is

ARIELLE HALL

The Outstanding First Year Student Award was designed to acknowledge a First Year Student who exhibits Academic Excellence, Community/Campus Involvement and Strength in Leadership.

Arielle Hall is a first year student from Brooklyn, New York. In her first year at the university, she has been a leader to both the academic and social community. She has been a representative of the Residential Student Association and she is an active participant within the community through C.A.L.I.B.E.R. Arielle has a passion for helping others which is evident by being a dedicated mentor of the Bridges to Adelphi Program. Her goal is to set up programs on campus that would allow her peers to enjoy their time at Adelphi. She is devoted to constantly working to improve the students' experience at Adelphi by bringing the community together.

Congratulations Arielle!
